

Rothco D3-A Type Leather Gloves

Rothco's D3-A Type Leather Gloves offer strength, protection, and dexterity; making them one of the most versatile pairs of gloves you can own. With the ability to wear with a pair of glove liners and a genuine cowhide leather construction, the D3-A gloves will deflect wind while the liners will provide additional warmth – making this combination ideal for wearing while working in cold weather. The adjustable cotton pull closure and metal slider allow you to tighten the fit around your wrist to prevent outdoor elements from getting inside. Perfect for operating equipment, military applications, shooting, or performing other work, the shooting gloves will not sacrifice the tactile skills needed to complete each task that comes your way.
